

- Ren is a Chinese word that has one character in it. Ren means Human being/person. It only contains 2 strokes. It is mostly used as "people" in dialogues or people in general.

The character Ren is supposed to represent a human sticking out his arm. On the side of the paper we see the evolution of this character :

POEME : Being a human being

Not to be complicit not to accept everyone else is silent it must be alright not to keep one's mouth shut to hold onto one's job not to accept public language as cover and decoy not to put friends and family before the rest of the world not to say I am wrong when you know the government is wrong not to be just a bought behaviour pattern to accept the moment and fact of choice

I am a human being and I exist

a human being and a citizen of the world responsible to that world —and responsible for that world.
